

Sportsmans Arms, Tattenhall - 27th November 2011

The wind was gusting at well over 30mph and the waves in the Dee estuary made the "Shall we ride?" decision, very easy.

No: stay at home until things settle down a bit.

So, Jill made a start on the Xmas cards and I completed a form objecting to the banning of cyclists along a bridle path near the Candle Factory. No cyclists indeed!

Fortunately, the weather did improve, so we 'car-assisted' to Waverton,

Waverton and the Canal explored the canal side a little, and then continued to Tattenhall to meet the gang for lunch.

Great nosh!

The Sportsmans Arms has new landlords, who made us very welcome.

They needed to: there was no one else there! The food was in large portions and reasonably priced.

We joined the afternoon ride until Waverton, then letting the main group continue to battle against the wind for their return journey to the Eureka.

Thank you Brian, and thank you Janet for the complete Garmin route.
